Yuma, Arizona
Volume 76-
"Started 1910"

Editor's note . . .

By Jay Allee

Reflecting on my years at Yuma High, it is hard to believe that my senior year has come to an end. The many changes which have taken place in the last four years seem stranage — some seem so distant while others seem like yesterday.

One classic example is the Old Ag building. It was gone in the blink of an eye, thanks to bulldozers and dump trucks. But the construction of the research Center took several blinks . . . more blinks than even the school officials thought. But slowly the building was completed and is a shining jewel in Yuma High's skyline. Then there was Old Main. After many, many classes (that's where yearbook, newspaper and photography was — in the basement) it was closed down, gutted and brought up to standard. With the school building at the seams, it will be good to have classes in that building again. But that won't happen until after summer. And we, of the class of 1986, will be long gone on our seperate ways.

There were many new faces on campus this year. Mr. Clayton, a 1956 YHS graduate and former band director here, returned to his Criminal ways as principal. Mr. Vanderburg took over as athletic director and did the job of disciplinarian — what a job he did with cleanup details, in-school suspension and stern words for those who violated the Crime code. The assistant principal escaped the cold of Michigan for the "frying pan" of Yuma.

Mrs. Colleen Hefner took over in the student activities office about mid year when friend and all-around good person Mrs. Bonnie MacNeill left Yuma.

This was the last year for Mr. Bill Brennan, fine arts department chairman and drama director, and Mr. Carl Greenwell, advanced auto shop teacher, master of the motor and longtime wrestling coach. Both retired after what must have seemed like hundreds of years here.

Then there was Mr. Ray Drysdale, master of old jokes and friend (sometimes foe) of seniors since government was a requirement before "parole" — was appointed county superintendent of schools about Christmas time. He had been here so long he was on the origional YHS staff (he was in the 1910 El Saguaro) teaching ancient history — only then it was current events. All the old timers will be missed.

I have always loved working on the yearbook and becoming editor was a dream come true. It may have caused endless hours of work, but once you see this book I know it was worth it. The hassles with staffers, photographers and advisors now seem so minor. I am proud to be the editor of this, the 76th edition of El Saguaro.

God Bless each of you.

Alle Ph:1.4:13

This year's cover, designed by Yuma High's Rod Fowler, was intended to be a salute to the much-discussed Halley's Comet in its 76 year cycle.

However, Halley wasn't nearly as spectacular as expected. The tragic events of January where the shuttle crew members including the first teacher in space, were killed kept space travel in the news. We use our cover to salute those who died in the effort.

The Yuma Kofa week started off in it's traditional way of a series of events. The most popular being that of dressing down Kofa and Friday, when Crims show their pride, by wearing their best Blue and White.

As the week wore on each Crim had a sense of this being Yuma's year. The football team was ready. They dominated Kofa from start to finish. Kofa was held to only one touchdown on three quarters of play.

When games end arrived everybody left Kofa Stadium hearing the Yuma Criminals bell ringing 32 times in a sound of VICTORY!

Warm weather, summer vacation and YEARBOOK! What else is there this time of year as school is soon over for three months. While summer arrives if you want it or not, yearbooks arrive only after months of hard work.

This year things were a little more difficult as there was an advisor change mid semester but Editor Jay Allee and his dedicated crew of 17 staffers and photographers got the job done.

Our comment to you is, "Read and Enjoy!!"

News reporters and photographers report and photograph the latest news and events that occur in the world. The news either comes out everyday or weekly but in the case of THERMO the news is reported every 2 or 3 weeks and delivered during third period to students and faculty.

Hunting and searching for people to be interviewed; rewriting for what seems the hundredth time and sitting infront of a typewriter is what THERMO staffers do for an hour each day.

THERMO photographers, of course, must not be forgotten. They develop film; print photos according to specifications of staffers or advisor and have arguments among themselves as to who is going to take the dullest photo assignment.

THERMO staffers and photographers put a lot of time and effort into the school newspaper. So next time you hold a THERMO in your hands read the stories, and who knows you may find them interesting!

Mark Jessen reveals his talent

The success of any school year is determined by many things, including the number of activities and events. Under the direction of Mr. David Psolka, student council has been very busy and their hard work has paid off.

Council is composed of student body officers elected in the Spring, appointed officers in manager positions and class officers. Other special people, such as foreign exchange students, are also on Council.

From taking ID pictures at registration time, to helping with graduation, Student Council is always serving the students and staff. Extra busy events include Yuma-Kofa week, Homecoming and the Leadership Workshop.

Council meets daily during the fifth period to take care of routine business of approving club activities and setting student policy.

Council is the voice of the student, through the elected officers, and many concerns have been taken through Council to the administration and School Board.

Mr. Taylor McBride, Director

Choralairs are making it BIG!!

"Don't you forget about me," sings Don Sorenson

Lisa Taylor performs at pep rally

What can be said about the YHS Choralairs that hasn't already been said a thousand times over. The musical ambassadors of Yuma High had another banner year.

From their fall concert to the year's grand finale, the house was packed as Mr. McBride's musicals covered all areas of popular music.

Again, they traveled the state and the West Coast with their musical messages.

A planned summer trip to Mexico City was cancelled following the tragic earthquake, however, plans are in the works for a future "super" trip.

To sum up the professionalism in which the Choralairs entertain, some San Diego Padre officials couldn't believe they were a high school group when they entertained for them.

Dennis, to my stepbrother, with this page you'll always remember me. We didn't really get to know eachother, but I think you're a very nice guy.

Sandra Brumond is here through the A.F.S. program. She is from Spykenisse, Holland, which is very much like here in their way of life.

She lived in Northern Arizona for two months before coming to Yuma. "I was very welcomed my first day here," said Sandra. During her stay in Yuma she is living with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Saladin.

After graduation, when she returns home, she would like to continue her education in a specialized school to become a reporter and she would also like to write books.

She enjoys all sports, especially soccer, and she played on the Yuma High soccer team. She likes reading and writing. Sandra is an active and involved student at Yuma High. She is in A.F.S., on the newspaper staff, and in student council.

Sandra says she likes Yuma High because the people are very nice and the school has alot of spirit.

Rahul Shah came to Yuma High from Poona, India He is sponsored by the Yuma Rotary Exchange program. Rahul is living with Mr. and Mrs. Don Cutlip during his stay in Yuma.

He is a senior this year and after he graduates he would like to attend Brigham Young University□□to study for his masters degree in mechanical engineering. He then plans to return home to India.

Rahul said the nature of the people in both countries is the same, although their culture is very different. His interests include racquetball, tennis, and reading books and magazines. He said the people of Yuma are very nice and he's very glad he was given the opportunity to learn a new culture and a different educational program.

Rahul said Yuma High is a "great school" and that he is "very proud to be a Yuma High Criminal."

thanks for your support for basketball.

over the world

Illerberg, West Germany sent Stefan Bletschacher to Yuma High. He is sponsored by A.F.S. and is living with Mr. Ray Sanchez, Yuma High's A.F.S. advisor.

The main differences between here and his hometown are the climate, landscape, and school. Schools in Germany have no athletics and activities, and there are no electives. After he graduates this year, he will have two more years of school in Germany. He will then have to go to the Army for 18 months and then he will consider going to a university.

His interests include sports, music, and art. He enjoys gymnastics, swimming, and drawing. He is the vice president of A.F.S. and is in student council. He is also involved in wrestling and wants to play tennis at Yuma High. He said the teachers and people are nice and his impression of America is very positive.

He would like to thank all the people of Yuma High who gave him good times both in and out of school.

Varsity Band

The Yuma High Varsity Band, one of the most enthusiastic cheering sections at football games, has also proven their distinctive musical ability by rating excellent in state competitions, where they competed against other bands.

Throughout February, March and April there are various band competitions which the band attended. These included the Regional Band rehearsals and performances; All State Auditions, and The All State Band rehearsals and performances. They also participated in the Rodeo Parade February 9.

With the help of Mr. Weakley, the band sponsor, they raised money for their trips by selling fruitcakes, cheese, sausages, and candy bars.

The twirlers who accompany the band are two very talented girls. This is the first time in two years there have been twirlers at Yuma High. They worked very hard practicing and have shown their excellence at all performances.

To be a member of the Yuma High varsity marching or concert bands takes a lot of hard work and practice. Each year persons wanting to make the band audition in the spring, and those persons needing a little more help go into junior varsity band.

Each day, under the leadership of Band Director Jerry Weakley, these students go through drill and theory so someday they will be marching with the pride of Yuma High.

The Academic Decathlon is something new at Yuma High. It was started and is sponsored by Mrs. McCraley.

The team consisted of nine people who were required to attend study sessions for several months. They then went on to a competition against seventeen other schools in Eloy, Arizona.

This year's team did very well in the competition. Marie Nidecker received a 3rd place medal in essay. Paul Sussman pulled in two 1st place medals in science and a 2nd in fine arts. Patti Johnson received 1st place in English/literature and two 3rd place medals in speech and fine arts. Becky Tellez and Stephanie Reel received 3rd place in interview.

A 4.0 or better is needed here

One exciting new concept to reward students for academic achievement is the A-Team. To be a member of this select group, weighted grades must average out to 4.0 or above for a grading period, with no grade lower than a B. Students are provided shirts from the District with a special emblem.

When students are on the A-Team for all grading periods during the school year they are given a special pin.

Several presentation ceremonies are held to recognize this fine group, including an invite-only pot luck held in the winter at the Yuma Civic and Convention Center.

The varsity football season ended a 3-6-1 season on a winning note by defeating Kofa 32-20. Their desire to play and win never decreased throughout the season.

Head Coach Dick Massey did more than coach football. He placed in them the desire to win and to be the best that they could possibly be. To help Coach Massey in this were coaches Bob Butcher, Pete Spoden and Al Sye.

The Criminals were led by 5 senior captains Alan Easley, Mike Thorlin, Pat Bauerle, Vic Guitierez and Dennis Ramirez.

After the season was completed, Coach Massey stepped down. He will remain at Yuma High teaching and working in other areas.

The junior varisty squad ended with a record of 4-3, despite tough competition by Phoenix and Tempe Schools.

Rudy Cabrera was the head coach, followed by two assistants Chris Magdeleno and Ernie Chavez. The coaches agreed that they were pleased with the desire to win.

Awards given by the coaches went to Sean Allen for best defense, John Merino for best offense, the most valuable player to Corey Ethington, best lineman to William Newborn, and the coaches award to Lonzo Heredia.

Cross Country sets fast pace

The true success of the 1985 cross country team may not be known until next year as the young team had only one senior.

Coach Allan Sullivan is already looking towards next year's season.

Many individuals contributed to the successful year. Lone senior Richard Alcala and junior Will Toms were singled out as top contributers. G.B. Isreal was noted for this potential as he was only a freshman.

Twice this year the boys defeated Kofa in dual meets and finished 1st in several three-way meets. They finished 7th at divisionals.

For the first time in several years there were not enough girls to field a team. The four girls competed unofficially and scored well.

Varsity made it to divisionals

This year's varsity volleyball team ended its season with a 17-4 record, and a trip to divisionals. Going at it since August, their labor and team work made this a most successful season. "It was a great season," said Coach Lori Peterson.

The team was lead by seniors Sylvia Ibarra, Rethema Jafow, Tammy Cuprak, Co-Captains Rendee Praeger, and Tosh Nakasawa. All received post-season honors on divisional or tournament teams.

Two juniors who also had division honors were Julie Jones, and Heather Choules. Moniki Daniels was placed on varsity mid season.

J.V.'s finish with 9-7 record

The junior varsity volleyball team did well this season, ending 6-2 in League play.

"They were a very strong hitting team and worked hard to succeed," said Coach Lynnae Root. "They should be a big help to the varsity next year."

Juniors who helped the team were Angela Corral, Debbie Hulcy, Wendi Sargent, and team captain Mary Longdail. Two sophomores also did a great job. They were Terri Anderson and Lara Belt.

The freshman level sports are quite a change from junior high sports, and this level is considered to be a building year. The frosh volleyball girls had quite a building year under first-year-coach Vicky Headington.

Finishing the early fall season with a 6-5 record, the girls were well versed in volleyball fundamentals and should contribute in years to come to the upper level programs.

"Their desire to win slipped a little towards the end of the season," remarked Coach Headington. "We had a variety of talent that will help the continuing program."

Three players who were recognized as being top contributors were Cha Cha Arriola, Joanne Calderon and Teresa Guzman.

Swimmers compete with confidence

The Yuma High swim teams put a lot of work and effort into their season this year. The teams were made of mostly young swimmers and they had a lot of spirit which helped raise their confidence.

The girls finished their season with 3 wins, 5 loses, and 2 third place finishes in the tournaments. They competed well at divisionals, placing 6th overall.

The boys did well on the season with 5 wins, 3 loses, and 2 second place finishes in the tournaments. Their intensity carried them into divisionals where they placed 5th overall.

The swim team was coached by first year coach Dee Dee Brandley. She worked well with the swimmers to make this a successful year.

The 1985-86 boys' basketball campaign was strange indeed. A final record of 9 wins and 13 losses almost got the Crims to divisionals.

A team with only one returning starter was able to upend several high ranking teams. They scrapped and tugged and managed to defeat Kofa 55-51 in a real nailbiter.

Yet, while they triumphed in the big games, the little ones seemed to get away.

The trip to the Divisionals came down to the last league contest of the year but Coach Roger Thomas and his crew fell short. One more win would have forced a last-minute play-off with the Kings for the fourth spot in the tournament.

Scott Johnson led the team in scoring with a 14.5 average and in rebounds with 9.6 per game.

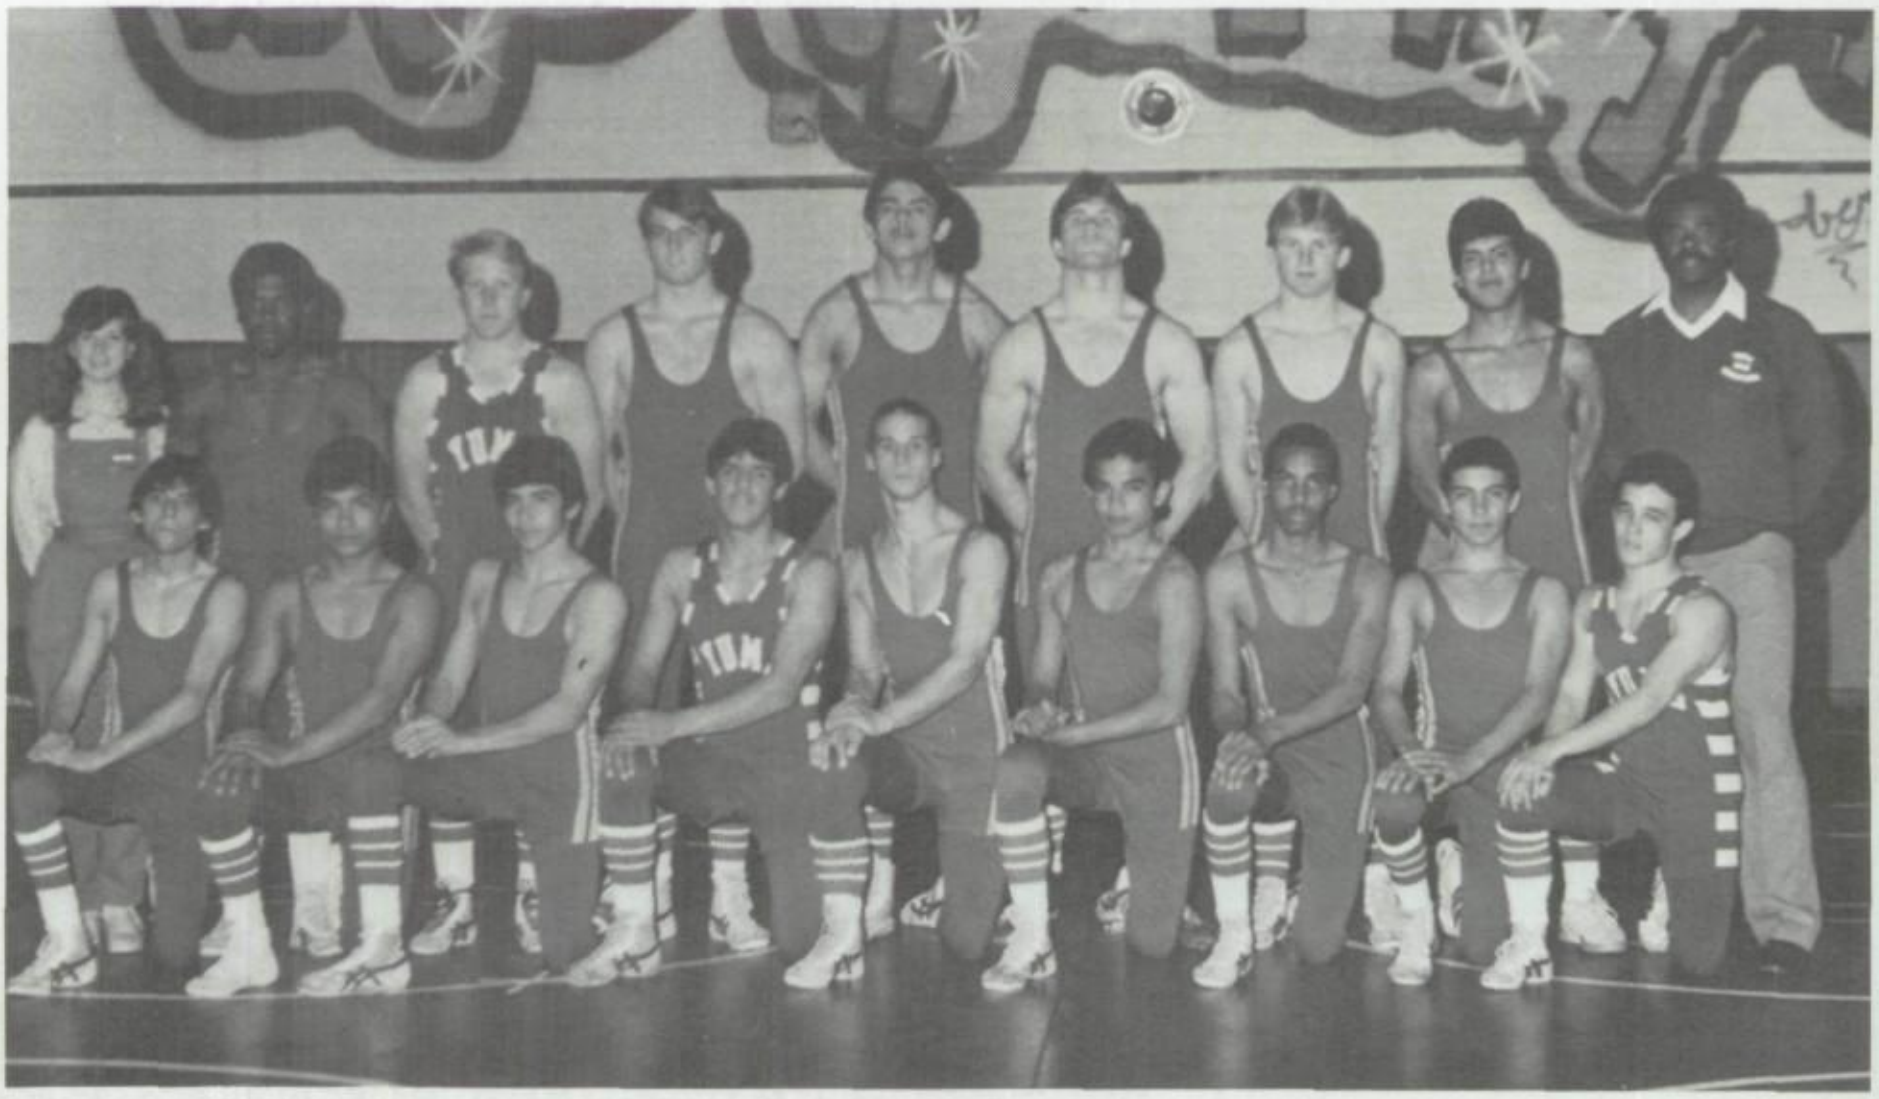
Sye improves wrestling team



This year's varsity wrestling team, under the direction of Coach Al Sye, was truly a "new generation" team. Their season record was 11-2-1 with eight wrestlers earning berths in the state tournament.

Coach Sye's attitude and talent led to this turnaround of the program. He attributed the success to his training program where each team member had "to plant within themselves the seeds of greatness."

Through determination, dedication, drive and motivation, there was success. The entire team efforts was recognized as a major reason for the successful season.

First-year coach Sye recognized the individual efforts of Pat Bauerle, Jesus Valadez and Fred Hall.

"This year's team displayed exceptional team spirit, maintained competence in wrestling skills, were good sports and demonstrated a willingness to sacrifice personal goals for the team's success," added Sye. "Thanks, thanks and thanks again for a very eventful year."

Softball took Metro Division

The varsity softball team had an outstanding season. They ended the season 20-4. The girls won the Metro Division Championship, but lost in the first round of state competition.

"I have no complaints," replied Head coach Rick Kisselburg. "They played outstanding on defense and offense." He also said he was pleased with their performance to win the division championship two years in a row.

"They knew what their goal was," said Assistant Coach Chris Claussen. "They just peaked at the wrong time."

Four girls who received first team all division honors were Amberly Davis, Kristin Gauthier, Julie Jones, and Dena Pollard. Second team all division went to Bea Denogean, honorable mention to Tiffany Hefner and Paula Bostwick.

When the coaches were asked to pick a Most Valuable Player both replied "The whole team is the M.V.P."

Coach Bill Babb and the varsity soccer team had one goal in mind for the 1985-86 season — make it to divisional play. However, a last-game loss prevented this.

The squad finished the year with a 7-3 overall record, but all three losses came in league play where they ended with a .500 record.

"We seemed to do well against the powerhouse teams we faced early in the season," said Babb. But later in the season key injuries and problems with grades caused their record to slip.

The highlight of the season was a third-place showing in the Agua Fria Christmas Tournament.

Player swings to perfection

Varsity baseball had a well balanced team with eight returning players.

The team was carried by the pitching of seniors Andy Chavez, Mike Pierson, and Corey Tomlin. Top hitters were Mike Pierson, Andy Chavez, and Marcus Ortega. Mark Jessen did an outstanding job at second base, while Alan Easley got the job done in centerfield.

The team played good defense to keep their offense up at the plate.

Four-year coach Mr. Magdaleno led his team with the assistance of Coach Kisselburg. Both coaches were pleased with the play and teamwork the team exhibited.

FCA invites all to be members

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is open to all Yuma High students. The purpose of FCA is to bring together those students who want to talk about their concerns, doubts, feelings, and faith. The students share fellowship with one another and around the common bond of Christianity, sports and school.

FCA raises money through concessions, car washes, and they also donated money and services to various organizations as needs were presented to the club.

The advisors this year were Mr. Allan Eddy and Mrs. Tamra White.

Future Business Leaders of Americ

FBLA is a non-profit educational organization made up of students pursuing careers in business education. It is endorsed by the AVA, AICS, HASSP, HBEA and the US Dept. of Ed. It is composed of three divisions: FBLA for high schools; PBL for post-secondary students; and an Alumni Division formed from both groups.

FBLA's purpose is to bring business and education together in a positive working relationship. The national organization offers programs and services that create a forum in which students, educators, and business people learn about one another. The FBLA fund-raisers are conducted both on campus and in the community. Some fund-raisers are dinner drawings, Halloween and Valentine cookies, and Crystal Jewelry sale.

FBLA went to Mesa on February 12, to attend the FBLA Region IV State Competition. Sixteen members attended and seven members received awards. These members were Monica Chretin-3rd place and Maggie Carrasco-4th place for word processing/ transcription; Lily Guadarrama-3rd place for extempo speech; Donna Thornburg-5th place for accounting II, Marisela Valle-4th place for clerk typist; and Terri Anderson and Brandi Brown-both got 4th place for graphics.

Mat Maids and M and M's — The girls who make up the wrestling support group are at every home match clapping, stomping and yelling. This year the girls had plenty to yell about as the varsity had a splendid season and sent eight to State.

The M and M's, the club's main fund-raising activity, took place on the day of every match. From the profits the girls awarded a $200 scholarship to a top wrestler at the end-of the-year banquet they put on.

The sponsor this year was Mrs. Coffman.

What club on this campus is involved in vocational agriculture? What club has chapter officers and holds a national convention, that has grown to be the largest annual meeting of students in the nation? The answer is FFA.

Future Farmers of America is a national organization of students enrolled in vocational agriculture or agribusiness. The primary aim of this organization is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship.

FFA members take part in meetings, speaking in public, participating in contests based on occupational skills, earning awards and recognition, and taking part in community improvement.

RESERVE
SECTION

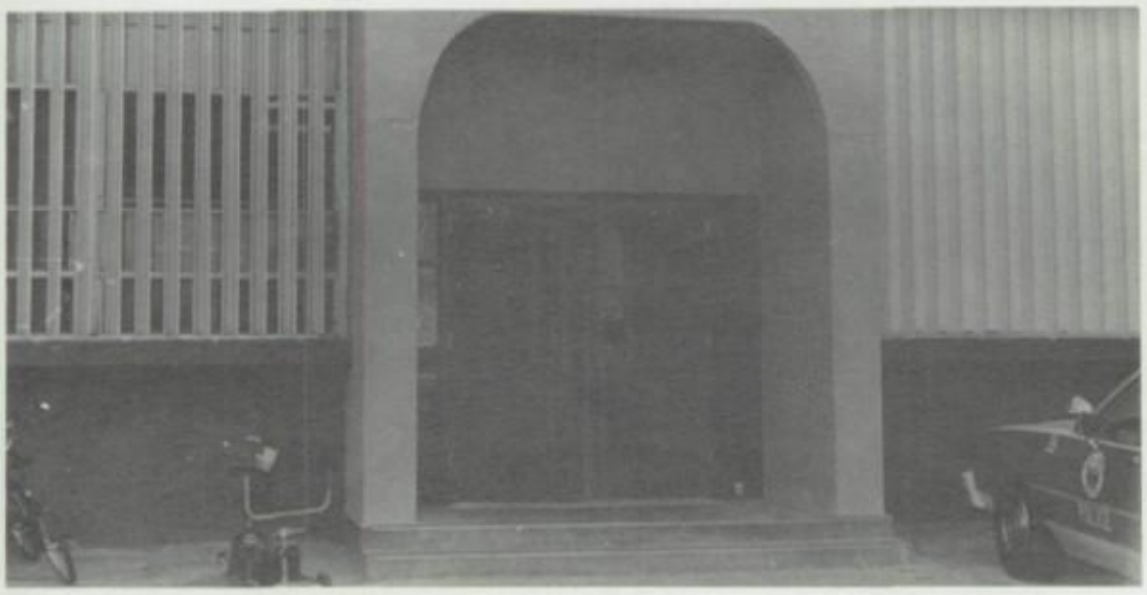
Never before in the history of Yuma High has there been so much physical change as there been so much physical change as during this school year.

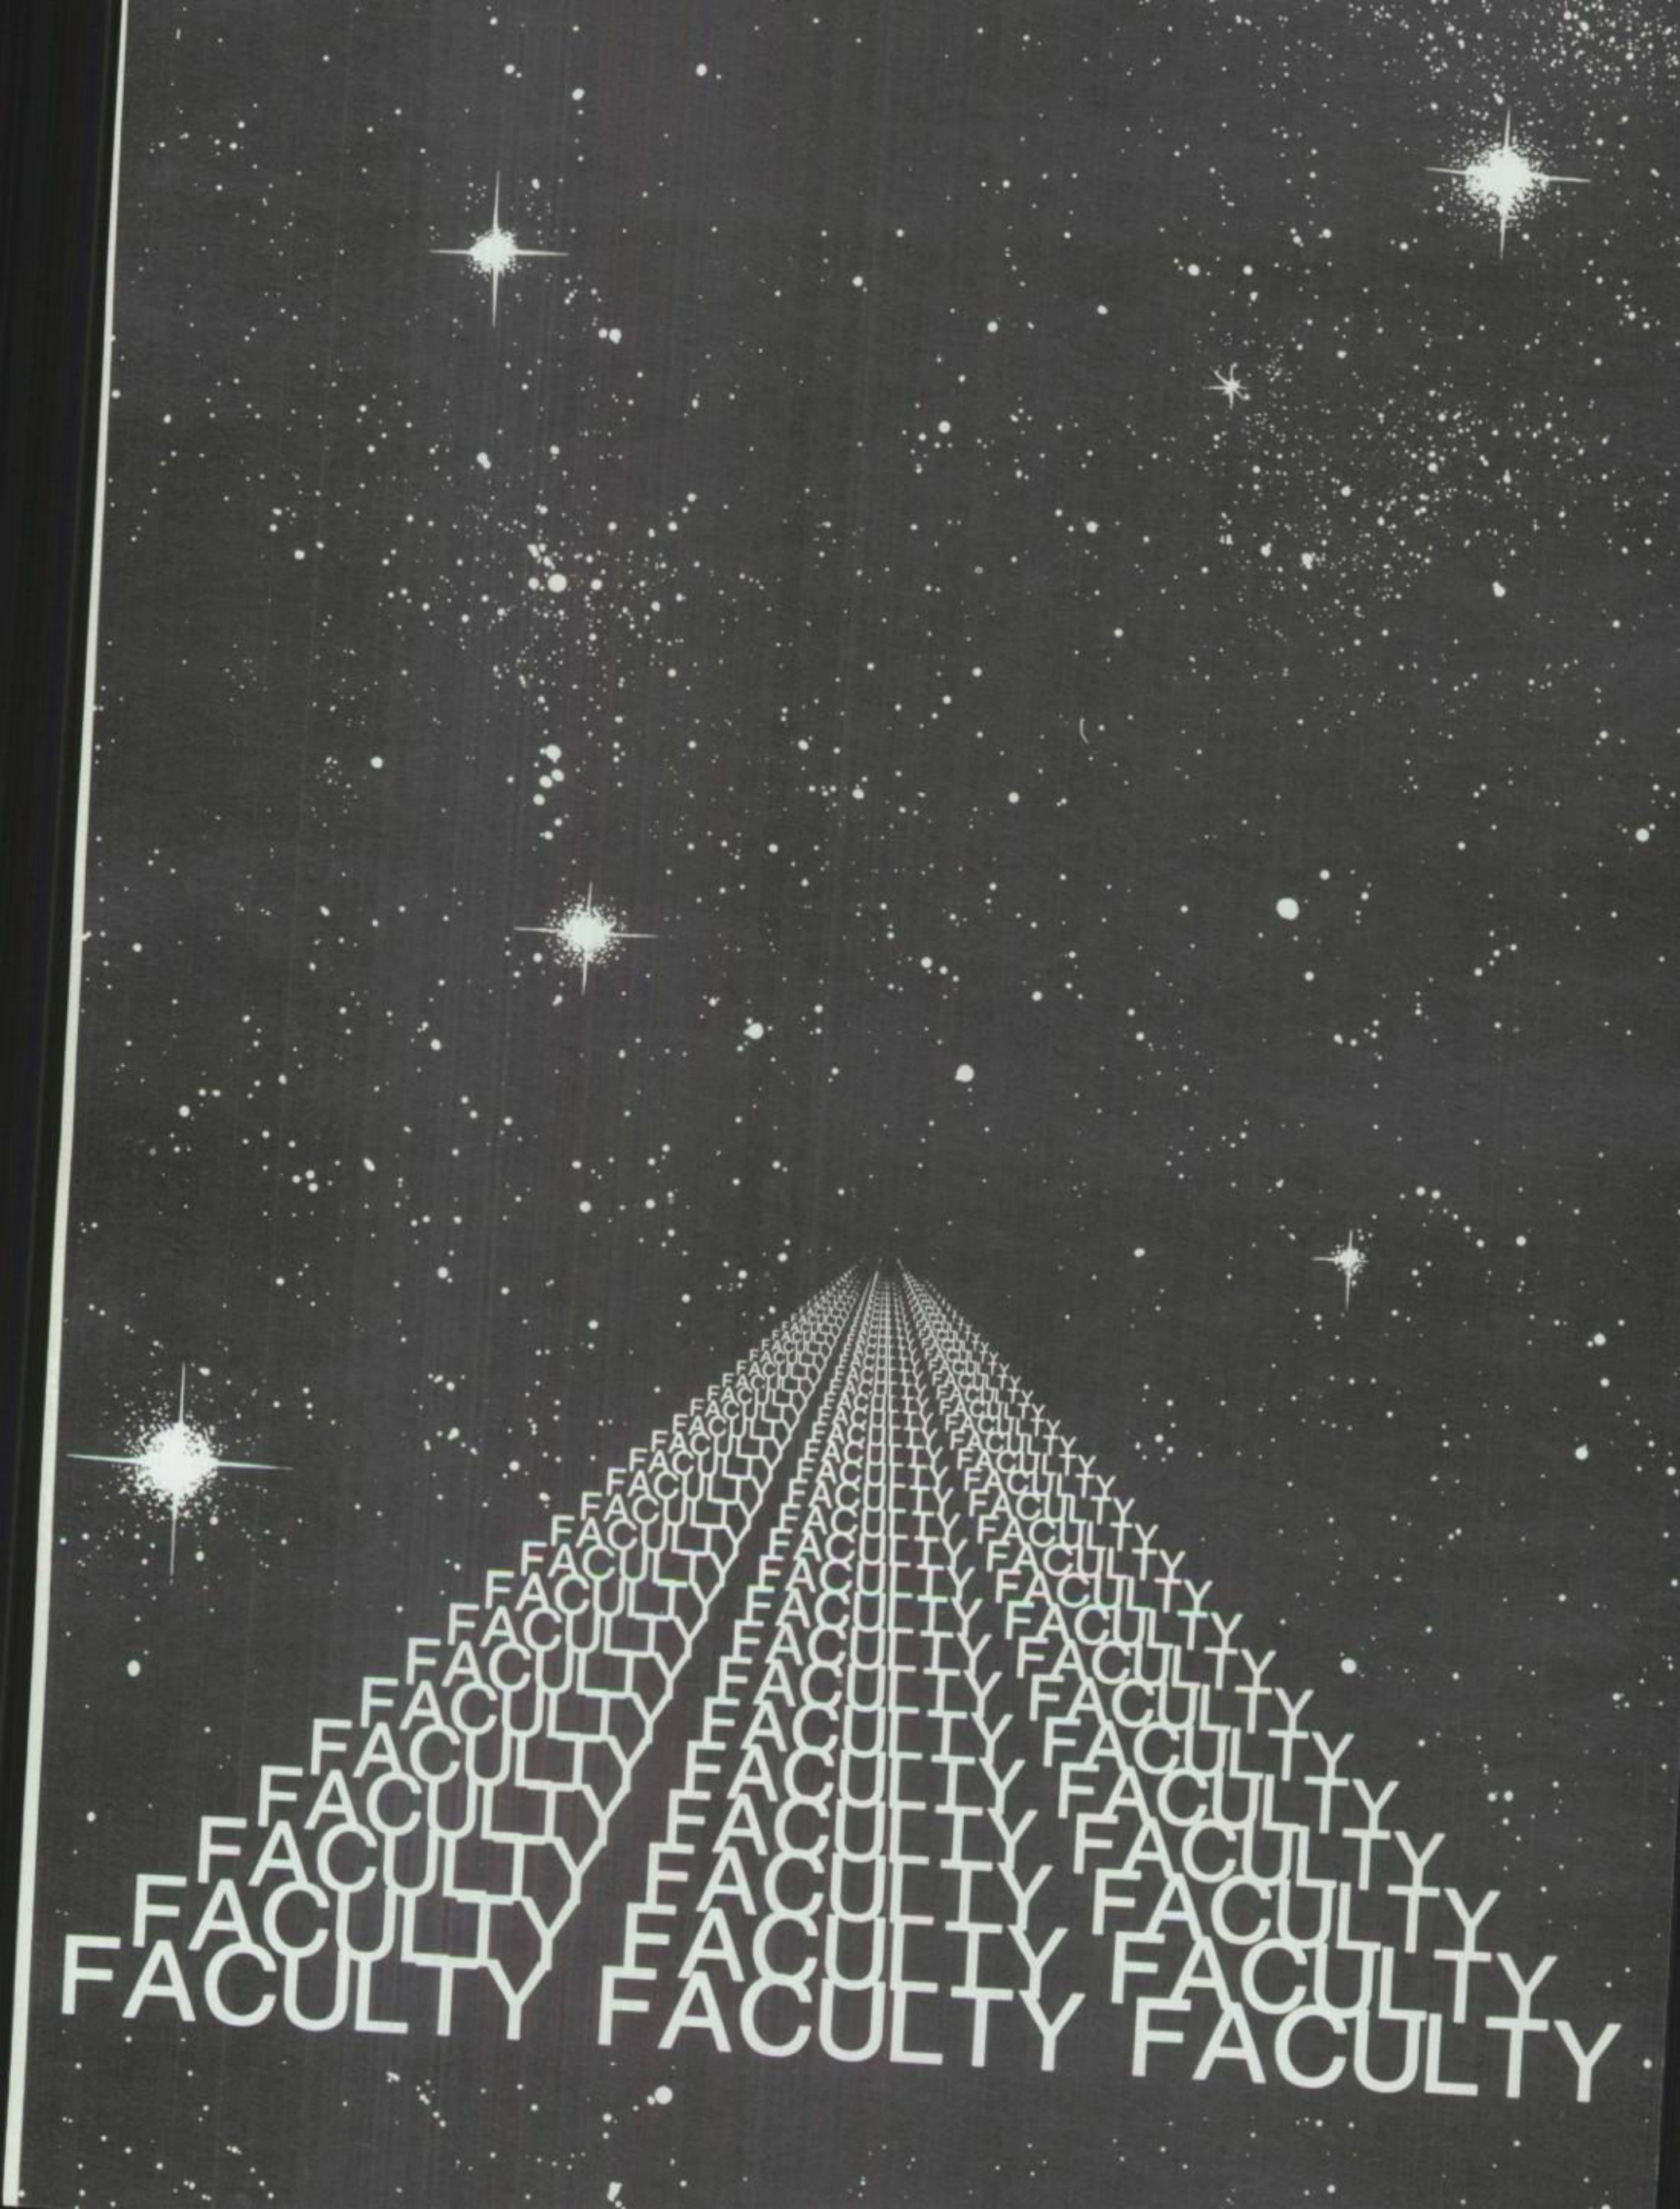
The much-awaited Research Center was occupied and the students found supurb classroom and library facilities.

Old Main was completely remodeled and AD had changes in main office, counseling and nurse areas.

The old campus definitely has a new look.

Buildings and Buildings





FACULTY

Mr. Bandes, Dr. Browne and Mr. Murrell directed from their District positions.

The people at the District Office have had a year of years. Not only were they busy with the usual functions of keeping the two schools running as they should, but the political events of elections and campaigns were beyond belief.

Superintendent Dr. Bob Browne, Assistant Superintendent Will Bandes and Personnel Director Fritz Murrell were very busy with the Crane attempt to seceede from YUHS District and the bond issue for the third high school. Will there be a third school? We should be finding out about the time this yearbook is distributed.

At district business was brisk all year

Board President Dr. Robert Cannell

Board Clerk Patt Holland

Board Members George Biltz, Vince Schulte and Maureen Keegan

The School Board of Education, elected by the people to represent the feelings of the community, also had an extremely hectic year with the Crane issue, the bond issue and other pressing matters.

Board President Dr. Bob Cannell, assisted by Board Clerk Patt Holland and members George Biltz, Maureen Keegan and Vince Schulte, put in many hundreds of hours to set policy and provide leadership for Yuma's secondary schools.

It takes very special people to dedicate their lives to such a hectic way of serving the community and its schools. The Yuma Union High School District is fortunate to have such a dedicated Board.

Mr. Clayton returns as principal

When the year started there were many new things to greet the students and faculty. The Research Center was ready — well, almost. There were many new faculty. The office area was ready — well, almost.

And it was homecoming day for new principal Jerry Clayton. A Yuma High graduate, class of 1956, he was back for the third time, this time he was in the driver's seat. During the late 60's and 70's he was the Yuma high instrumental music teacher and band director.

After leaving Yuma for a few years, he returned to a District position here and was principal at Kofa for six months.

His willingness to help, his friendly smile, his strong leadership, his concern for all — and we could go on and on — has brought Yuma High to the top.

Mrs. Steen is Mr. Clayton's "right hand person."

Mr. Clayton has plenty of work to run the school.

A secretary's work is never, never done.

JERRY CLAYTON
Mr. Friendly

In 1956 Mr. Clayton was Mr. Friendly — he still is!!!

Computers make their world more manageable

Mrs. Waldron talks school business.

Mr. Holland checks to make sure the computer printout is all in order.

Vice Principal Dean Holland has many responsibilities for the operation of Yuma High.

His specific areas are the student schedules, records and all the computer operation for registration and student records. He is also the one who handles student absence appeals. Another big job is being principal, when Mr. Clayton is off campus or out of town.

Assisting Mr. Holland is his secretary, Mrs. Marilyn Waldron. He also supervises Mrs. Sonoqui and Mrs. Vasquez in the computer center.

Hours and hours of time used to be spent on the hand recording of grades and other student information. It was a year-round/neverending task. Then came the miracle of modern times — the computer. Now hours and hours are spent straightening out the snafus associated with computers!!!

Not really, at least not at Yuma High. The Crim computer bank keeps on humming and report cards, lists, reports and other materials are inputted and outputted by Mrs. Sonoqui and Mrs. Vasquez. Keep them humming, ladies.

Mr. Holland takes his work very seriously.

Ms. Vasquez and Ms. Sonoqui know what it takes to work a computer.

Attendance, athletics and much more

Assistant Principal Jacque Bruno and her secretary, Colleen Hefner.

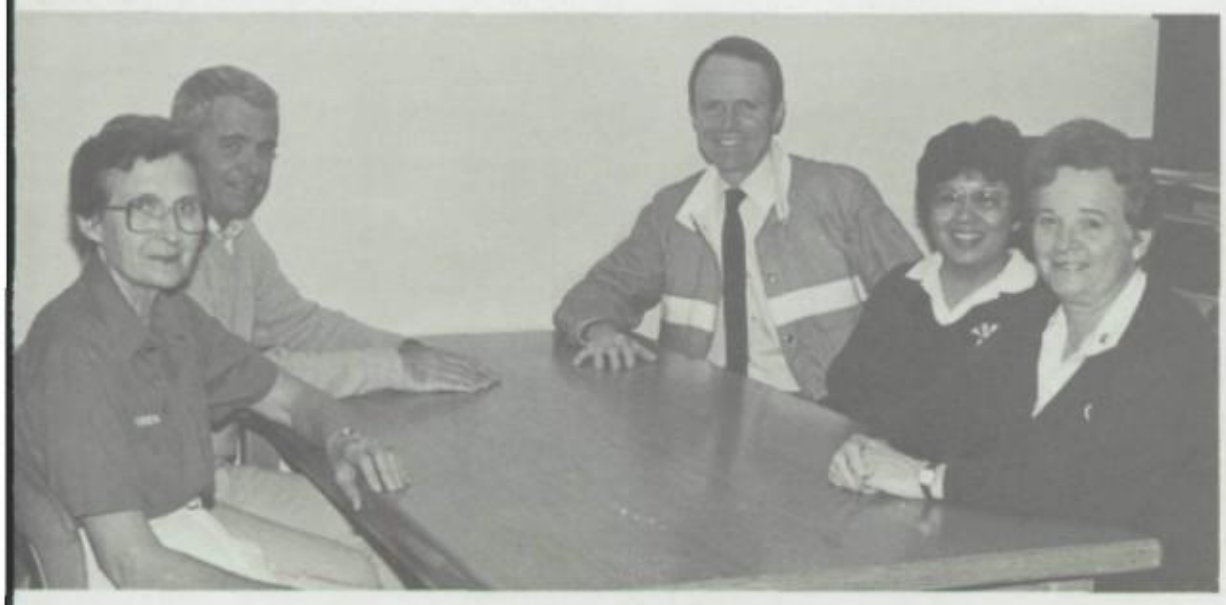
Assistant Principal Wes VanDenburg and his secretary, Carol Nolan.

Attendance office clerks Randy Curione and Esther Ochoa.

The offices of the assistant principals are perhaps the most busy on campus as that is where students go for all types of activities. Student activities, athletics, attendance and discipline are just the major topics.

Mr. Wes VanDenburg is finishing his first year at Yuma and is athletic director and in charge of discipline. He handles many other things like security, facility scheduling and teacher valuations.

Miss Jacque Bruno's main concerns are the attendance controls and all the student activities. She also works closely with Student Council and advisor David Psolka.



Guidance, Counseling on sale here!!

When school started for the counselor's this year, most of the rest of the students and staff were still on vacation. And since the new offices weren't ready, it was quite a mess. But the dedicated staff braved the dust and heat and student's got off to a good start.

Counseling does many jobs. Besides helping the students with problems relating to classes, the staff also helps with career choices, class selection and migrant activities.

Students from feeder schools (next year's freshmen) meet our counselors in the spring for placement information and pre-registration.

Mrs. Nettie Anderson, director

Mrs. Parker, career guidance

Mrs. Arviso, migrant liason

Mr. Cupell, psychologist

Mrs. Betty Dunn, secretary, is always busy.

Help!!-Help!! They come to the rescue

Mrs. Helen Rice (RN) finds the paperwork.

Mrs. Armbruster (RN) and Mrs. Tillou (LPN) await another patient, patiently.

It takes many people to make the school run and keep the students healthy and happy.

The YHS health office is not only there to handle emergencies but to work in areas of preventative medicine, counseling on health-related matters and keeping students records.

In the bookstore busy times are at the first and last of the school year. But all during the year the store is open for books supplies, materials and other financial matters.

Mrs. Murrell in student accounts handles the money for clubs and organizations and takes care of purchase orders and payment of bills.

Mrs. Dee Murrell has books/records to keep.

Lupe Evans is bookstore manager.

New center staff has big job

Mrs. Phyllis Turner, librarian

The heart of the new Research Center is the library and audio/visual center. With the advent of video for school use, the old 16mm projectors are slowly going the way of the past and are being replaced by VCR's and televisions.

Mrs. Lee Fosse, who has been at Yuma High for many years, will be leaving the job after this year.

Once plans are finalized and the area equipped, a large room in the basement will be a media production area for faculty and students to complete projects. Included in the area is a studio setting for stills and videos.

Mrs. Fosse, audio/visual

The computerized checkout in the new Media Center is run by Billie Cauthren and Linda Collins.

Books, magazines, periodicals and pamphlets by the thousands make up the new YHS library. From the old, cramped quarters in Main to the new building must resemble a trip to heaven for Mrs. Turner and her always-eager-to-help staff of Ms. Collins and Ms. Cauthren.

In addition to the vast increase in space, the computerized checkout has simplified the headache of keeping track of the thousands of volumes.

A typing room, meeting room, offices and work areas make the new facilities the heart of the educational process on the YHS campus.

The rest of our staff. . .

Mrs. Russell is doing a great job in the attendance office.

Mrs. Choate does a super job as duplicating coordinator.

Mrs. DeLintt, switchboard operator, takes care of phone and more.

Mr. Neece is athletic equipment manage

Many people work at YHS

Mr. Franco brings our supplies.

Mrs. Russell who replaced Mrs. Krist during second semester did a fine job in the attendance office. Edie Choate takes care of all the duplicating jobs and makes sure our tests are ready.

Mrs. Tensi DeLintt has a big job in answering the phones and keeping the office in order. Mr. Neece has been around Yuma High for along time. In addition to the responsibilities of being a security guard Mr. Neece takes on the responsibilities of being the athletic equipment manager. These jobs keep him very busy. Mr. Franco, a person seldom seen by students is the man who keeps our school supplied. The Instructional aides around campus to plenty of work and this work is to be greatly appreciated. They help out in the many diffrent departments and keep the teachers organized.

These folks keep us in line

Mr. Neece takes a break.

Mr. VanDenburg and Mrs. Nolan work good together.

Are security officers have big job on our campus. They do alot more than taking care of fights and checking hall passes. Keeping our campus under control keeps them busy all day long. Mr. VanDeburg, our new principal and head of security has done a great job his first year on our campus. It didn't take Mr. Vandeburg long to become part of the Yuma High family. Mrs. Nolan, Mr. VanDeburg's secretary, does a great job keeping this group organized.

Security officers are Mr. Schwab, Mrs. Sullivan, Mr. Vogt. and Mr. Neece.

Buses, driving are their jobs

Our bus drivers have a big responsibility, to take us to and from school. They take this responsibility seriously and do a very good job. We often take these rides to and from school for granted but much hard work goes into each and every trip.

It takes Lois Ramsey who organizes the whole program, the bus drivers who are always there even for special trips, and the mechanics who keep the buses moving.

All of us have been involved with the bus drivers at least once and most of us are every day so we all know how much these people and all their hard work is to be appreciated.

These ladies keep us fed.

Here are the ladies who are responsible for our lunches everyday. It's a big job to feed a whole school every day and they do it well. While we're all running around on our busy schedules, they're in the cafeteria working hard to make our lunch the best it can be.

Those of us who eat at our snack bar can appreciate all of Marice Thornburg's hard work. She's the one who keeps the snack bar in order and makes sure they don't run out of burritos.

Mary Duff is in charge of cafeteria operations, she makes sure the food gets cooked and we get served. They put alot of hard work into our lunches and this work is greatly appreciated.

We let them cook our food?

They keep our campus neat, running

The groundskeepers are Ed Erhart, Bart Medina and Tom Coz.

Over 2,200 students, 100 teachers and many other workers — that's a lot of people to clean up and repair for. Long before students arrive, and long after they go home, the maintenance and custodial people are here.

Daily duties include cleaning all the buildings, cutting lawns, washing walkways, repairing the thousands of pieces of equipment and getting the plant ready for the next day.

With the additon of the new Research Center, and all the new construction going on, these folks are busy.

Maintenance men are Shu Matzkanin, Roger Martinez and Steve Cedillo. They are in charge of repairs.

Working late to keep the campus clean are Pete Renteria, Charlie Hurtado ((lead), Dan Garibay, Eddie Rupert, Mannie Romero, Richard Casey and Jesse Alarcon.

The bosses are T.C. Fredericks, plant forman and Eldon Eskew, lead person.

Hours in the library, one more composition, one more having to say, "Sorry, I've got homework to complete." These are just some of the sacrifices students make to try to make the Top 10 rating of the graduating class.

The trend is back to the academics and to recognize those who have come out on top is always a pleasure for El Saguaro.

Following the first semester grading period, of their final year, the computer calculates and computes and spits out the top 10 students according to academic ranking. Taken into consideration are grades, weighted by honors points. Then the alphabetic list is made public.

Reserved for someone special

Bubba,
Hey beautiful, I have had fun being you secret Love this year. All those nights in the back of the bus. It was so romantic. I just wish you weren't going to be leaving. I am going to miss your muscular body + your unshaved face. Im going to miss you

Love

JOHN

Bubba,
Remember those nights at Viewpoint Ramen Those times I said no. No matter what I'm serious I'm gonna miss you a lot and can't wait to see you soon

Love

DENNIS U. - BUBBA D. - YOUR PRETTY SMART FOR A FOOTBALL PLAYER, BUT NOT SMART ENOUGH TO GET MY SEAT. GOOD LUCK IN COLLEGE AND I'LL SEE YOU AROUND.

YOUR FRIEND

Joe Dunn

Bubba - well guy, I guess I'm going to have to come and watch some A.W.C games and I'd better see you playing. These last 4 years and the ones in grade kids have been an experience that is irreplaceable. You've been great. Keep up the good work and keep catching you during the summer. If you want to practice kicking this summer, give me a call. I need the practice.

Hey Bubba,
Hope you have a great summer. Keep practicing your kicking. Maybe I'll see you at the games next year. Good luck in college.

Bonita
It's been great playing with you in football. Well have a great life and a nice summer break!
